KEEPING UP WITH CLOUDPOINT

Official Newsletter of Cloudpoint Geospatial

Welcome to the Team, Brittany!

We recently welcomed a new employee to our team: meet Brittany! As Cloudpoint continues to grow in its clientele across multiple states and industries, we are always ready to seek out the best employees to join the team. As a number of brand-new clients were being added to our managed services roster, the need arose for an additional GIS technician, and in stepped Brittany...READ MORE

Local Government Solutions Showcase

After a bit of a hiatus from showcase events, Cloudpoint was excited to be back with a great group of people for a showcase at Town Hall in Zionsville, Indiana on December 8th. The day started with delicious coffee and donuts, as well as a bit of time for everyone to get acquainted... READ MORE

Cloudpoint Recognized as GISCI Endorsing Employer

Cloudpoint Geospatial is honored to announce that we have been recognized as a GIS Certification Institute (GISCI) Endorsing Employer. We are proud to have SIX GIS Professionals currently on our team, and look forward to continuing to be a place that GIS Professionals want to be employed...READ MORE

Top 5 Reasons to Move to ArcGIS Pro in 2023

Looking for some new professional goals for the new year? If you've not yet made the move to ArcGIS Pro from ArcMap, may I suggest that you place that on the top of your list? We all know the time is coming where you'll need to use ArcGIS Pro for most workflows - some of us were early adopters, some reluctant adopters, and some of us are still holding out....READ MORE
